How can you save water this winter?

The City of Aspen enacted Stage 2 Water Restrictions on September 1st, 2025.

This season has been exceptionally dry for Aspen. Even with irrigation season behind us, it's important to continue to focus on conserving water.

Did you Know?

2025 was the 3rd driest year in 131 years!

According to the US Drought Monitor, Aspen remains in Exceptional Drought.

Try This!

- Shorten your shower by a minute or two and save up to 150 gallons per month!
- Turn off the water while you brush your teeth.

Consider This!

- Garbage disposals use a lot of water to operate, so try to use them sparingly. Try composting instead!
- Soak pots and pans instead of letting the water run while you scrape them clean.

Pay Attention to Leaks!

A single leaky faucet dripping once per second can waste over 5 gallons of water a day, leading to nearly 2,083 gallons of wasted water per year!
