JEWELRY REQUIREMENTS FOR SATURDAY MARKET VENDORS FOR 2023

The creative aspect of the Saturday Market is in danger of being consumed by the pursuit of greater profits through some of our vendors selling “pre-made” (not by them) jewelry. This trend does not respect the artistic requirements for participation in the market. Aspen retailers are paying crazy-high rents in a tough seasonal business climate and some market vendors were competing with their product. We are no longer accepting pre-made pendants dropped on pre-made chains with a clasp attached as “Aspen original jewelry” suitable for the market.

Please remember, participation in the market is a privilege not a right. The City of Aspen only allows us to have the market because it's believed we are helping the local economy not hurt businesses through competing with the existing stores. We achieve this by offering ORIGINAL COLORADO PRODUCTS SOLD BY THE ACTUAL ARTIST. Meaning, YOU design it, YOU construct it, (a reasonable amount of help with labor is allowed, but you need to be the primary constructor of your product, no “design only”, no factories) YOU sell it yourself.

For example:

- If making a simple chain necklace with a pre-made chain, (even a pre-clasped chain would be allowed) IF YOU CRAFTED the bead/metal component on it, or decorated a pre-made bead with a fancy wire wrap which hangs on the chain. Extra points if you made the clasp also, but a focal component must be PRIMARILY or ENTIRELY your own creation.
- Hang an array of beads on headpins where the pre-made pendant would hang from the chain making it an ORIGINAL DESIGN piece.
- Roll a selection of pre-made beads and pendants over a thin chain (or multi-thin chains) making it an ORIGINAL DESIGN piece.
- Use a few inches of chain and WIRE WRAP and connecting components yourself.
- Use an entire length of chain and WIRE WRAP bead dangles on it yourself, connecting to links adding fullness at the sides.
- Take another chain or ribbon or leather and perhaps beads and weave that through the chain to make something original happen making an ORIGINAL DESIGN PIECE.

If you have questions, please ask us. A first infraction will result in a written warning. A second infraction will lead to suspension and another new designer can come in who can better understand what the market desires to accomplish. The market gets better and better each year and if you are a return artist your designs need to change. Jewelers must submit a representation of ALL JEWELRY STYLES for acceptances to the market. If you create something new, you are required to photo it and email it in for an OK before the next Saturday begins.

Any vendor not complying with these requirements (i.e. the selling of jewelry that is not 100% your jewelry) will result in an immediate ban from the market. We do want to support you. If you sell “pre-made” jewelry at another location, you are allowed to give someone who asks about it your business card. You are not allowed to deliver goods of this type during market hours at your booth. You are not allowed to bring catalogs to show people “what else you do” at the market. Please offer your card and follow up other retail business at your store location, online, meet for coffee or over the phone.

Sincerely,

The Commercial Core & Lodging Commission
